Assistant Professor, Art Education – School of Art
Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts at Arizona State University

The School of Art in the Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts at Arizona State University invites applications for a full-time tenure-track appointment in Art Education at the assistant professor level beginning fall 2018.

Arizona State University is a new model for American higher education, an unprecedented combination of academic excellence, entrepreneurial energy and broad access. This New American University is a single, unified institution comprising four differentiated campuses positively impacting the economic, social, cultural and environmental health of the communities it serves. Its research is inspired by real world application blurring the boundaries that traditionally separate academic disciplines. ASU serves more than 80,000 students in metropolitan Phoenix, Arizona, the nation’s fifth largest city. ASU champions intellectual and cultural diversity, and welcomes students from all fifty states and more than one hundred nations across the globe.

ASU’s Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts, the largest comprehensive design and arts school in the nation, is a vibrant example of the of the New American University philosophy. With nearly 5,000 students, more than 400 faculty and faculty associates, 135 degree options and a tradition of top-ranked programs, the Herberger Institute is built on a combination of disciplines unlike any other program in the nation. The institute includes the School of Art, School of Arts, Media and Engineering, The Design School, School of Film, Dance and Theatre, School of Music, and the ASU Art Museum. Through recognizing that design and the arts are critical resources for transforming society and solving complex problems, ASU’s Herberger Institute is committed to positioning artists, scholars, designers, and educators at the center of public life.  herbergerinstitute.asu.edu

Located in one of the most expansive metropolitan centers in the United States, and situated in the Sonoran Desert, the school supports a broad range of art practice and inquiry. Programs within the School of Art lead to the degrees of Bachelor of Arts (BA) in Art with concentrations in art history, art studies, museum studies, fashion; an online BA in art history; Bachelor of Fine Arts (BFA) in Art with concentrations in art education, drawing/painting, ceramics, fibers, intermedia, photography, printmaking, sculpture/metals/woods; Master of Arts (MA) in Art with concentrations in art history or art education; and Master of Fine Arts (MFA) in Art. In addition, the school participates in the Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) programs in Design, Environment and the Arts housed within the Herberger Institute. With several nationally ranked programs and one of the largest comprehensive art programs in a public research university in the United States, the ASU School of Art plays a prominent role within the Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts and is located on both the Tempe and downtown Phoenix campuses.

The Art Education program in the ASU Herberger Institute School of Art prepares students to succeed in multiple educational environments, offering a broad-based undergraduate curriculum with a substantial foundation in studio art, art history, and art education. The Masters of Arts with a concentration in Art Education program emphasizes teaching and learning in schools, museums, the community and online with interdisciplinary, multicultural and international components. The program has an international reputation as a leading research center, is nationally ranked among art education programs, and provides students with knowledge and resources to earn their teaching certification.

The position will serve undergraduate and graduate students in the School of Art’s Art Education program. An active and significant record of scholarship and/or creative activity, advising students in academic and career planning, and other service are expected. The position offers opportunities for collaborative, interdisciplinary teaching and curriculum development.

Required Qualifications: Ph.D. or Ed.D. in Art Education or related field must be conferred by the start of employment. Experience teaching in K-12 schools, community institutions, or at the University/College level. Demonstrated evidence of excellence in teaching and record of scholarship and/or creative activity in art education.

Desired Qualifications:
Evidence of strong commitment to innovative research as well as undergraduate and graduate teaching. Evidence of strong commitment to community programs. Ability to contribute to the development of the undergraduate and graduate programs in Art Education. Interest in contributing to ASU’s highly regarded online degree programs. Interest in interdisciplinary and collaborative teaching. Evidence of a commitment to diversity in research and creative activity, teaching, recruitment, retention, and service.

Instructions to Apply: Please submit a letter of interest addressing scholarship and/or creative activity, teaching and work experience. Include curriculum vitae, the names and contact information for three references, teaching statement, sample syllabus, evidence of scholarship or creative work in the form of 20 images (.pdf or .jpg format, 1200 max pixel width) along with a separate image list that includes name, title, date, size and medium for each work. To apply: http://apply.interfolio.com/45527

Application Deadline: The application deadline is December 1, 2017; if not filled, reviews will occur every two weeks thereafter until search is closed. Screening of candidates will begin immediately; for best consideration, application materials should arrive by the deadline.

For information about the School of Art, visit www.art.asu.edu.

ASU conducts pre-employment screening for all positions, which includes a criminal background check, verification of work history, academic credentials, licenses and certifications.

Arizona State University is a VEVRAA Federal Contractor and an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will be considered without regard to race, color, sex, religion, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other basis protected by law. See ASU's complete non-discrimination statement at https://www.asu.edu/aad/manuals/acd/acd401.html.

See ASU’s Title IX policy at www.asu.edu/titleIX.